Healing the Scars of War

By Susan Barnett

New Paltz, NY – 71 thousand New Yorkers are in the active military right now. Over a million more are veterans. And a program established after 9-11 is finding the treatments that helped survivors of that attack are helping solders in trouble. Hudson Valley bureau chief Susan Barnett reports.