Jan. 29, 2016: Ashley Hupfl, Glenn Blain, Schuyler Center, Dr. Gerald Benjamin

by Alyssa Plock

January 29, 2016

Today, Ashley Hupfl, an Albany reporter for City & State, shares this week's Winners and Losers.

NY Daily News Capitol Reporter Glenn Blain looks at the news highlights of the week.

We will discuss a Schuyler Center report on the state of child welfare in New York titled Hopeful Futures for New York's Children: Advancing Child Welfare with the Schuyler Center's President and CEO Kate Breslin and Senior Policy Associate Kari Siddiqui.

Dr. Gerald Benjamin is currently the head of The Benjamin Center for Public Policy Initiatives at SUNY New Paltz and associate vice president for regional engagement at the College, where he also holds the title of Distinguished Professor. He will join Susan Arbetter for our monthly Con Con Conversation. This month we look at Gov. Cuomo's proposal to create a non-partisan commission to blueprint a constitutional convention.
