

Adam C. Blai M.S.

Religious Demonology

from the Roman Catholic perspective.

"There is a serious side to the paranormal craze...
...the collision with the war between Good and Evil."

Adam's talk brings together years of psychological experience with church training that only comes with membership in the International Association of Exorcists. Adam is the only speaker on the college circuit that has this membership, a rare accomplishment for laity in any country. Adam shows the many things mistaken for paranormal and then goes into some areas that are: serious hauntings, possession, and exorcism. Over two hours of material with time for your students questions. The group will leave better informed about some of the dangers of the paranormal as well as encouraged to find the good that is inherent in the work that he does. In talking with people about me I would emphasize that I am one of a handful of lay members of the International Association of Exorcists in the world (there are 200 members total for the world, mostly priests). Nobody else can offer such a speaker as far as I know. This is the only "credential" for demonology that isn't just a self appointed title. Hopefully that will appeal the religious schools that might be conservative about this topic. My psych background, and having an M.S., are also unusual in the paranormal field
