Symposium at SUNY New Paltz Sept. 18 will explore housing issues

Sep 13, 2019

The entrance to the Student Union Building on the SUNY New Paltz campus in New Paltz, N.Y.
Photo provided

NEW PALTZ, N.Y. — The Benjamin Center for Public Policy Initiatives at SUNY New Paltz will co-host half-day symposium exploring the regional availability of affordable housing.

“Hudson Valley Housing: The Impact of Short-Term Rentals and the Prospect of Rent Regulation,” will take place from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18, in the Multipurpose Room of the Studer Union Building on the SUNY New Paltz campus.

A number of area municipal officials and affordable housing advocates will share their thoughts or issues related to housing, rentals and regulation in the Hudson Valley.

For a detailed schedule and breakdown of the morning, visit https://www.newpaltz.edu/benjamincenter/.

The symposium is a collaborative project of The Benjamin Center, RUPCO, and the SUNY New Paltz Foundation.

Parking will be available in lot No. 28 off state Route 32 south, across the street from the Student Union Building.