Instructors:

This is a friendly reminder that the Starfish Student Academic Progress Survey is scheduled to open tomorrow and close on October 26.

Please note that the student academic progress survey differs from the recently closed enrollment census survey. The academic progress survey presents a nearly 4-week window for the provision of course-based instructor-student feedback at scale.

While survey participation is voluntary, your feedback can play a critical role in helping to inform the nature of support students receive from advisors and program staff. Course-based instructor feedback is valued and appreciated by students, and ongoing evaluation of the platform's effectiveness continues to show promise.

Thank you for your continued partnership in support of our students' educational success.
