Private Scholarship Search Tips

- File a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) every year online at studentaid.gov. Many scholarships as well as other types of financial aid depend on this information, and you have the right to accept or decline any financial aid offered.
- Look early. Start looking for scholarships a year before you anticipate needing and/or qualifying for them.
- Apply for as many scholarships as you can possibly manage.
- Be prepared to meet the deadlines for letters of recommendation, transcripts, essays, etc.

Private Scholarship Search Tips

- Evaluate yourself in relation to the requirements:
 - What career do you hope to pursue?
 - How do your goals and ambitions relate to the implied goals of the scholarship?
 - How do your qualifications compare to the requirements of the scholarship?
 - What are your past successes, achievements, honors received and positions of leadership held?
 - What are your abilities and potential?
 - Where do you want to see yourself in five years? Ten Years?
 - For what accomplishments and in what way would you like to be remembered?

Private Scholarship Scams

Seven common signs a scholarship is a scam:

1. Application or processing fees.
2. Loan fees or fees that are charged for listings or “exclusive” information.
3. Guaranteed winnings of a scholarship of your money back.
4. “Everybody is eligible” – each scholarship is geared towards selective criteria.
5. Unclaimed aid myth – “Billions of dollars of scholarships go unclaimed every year”,
6. “We will apply on your behalf”.
7. Services that ask for a credit card number or say you are a “finalist” in a contest that you did not enter.

Being cautious of scams prevents you from giving away money instead of obtaining it. Never give out your social security number, credit card number, or bank information.

Your plan to manage costs

- Estimate costs to be paid and when
- Determine student aid available
- Estimate family resources available
- Discuss options to finance balance due
- Agree on a plan and share responsibility
