

Recovering the History of Underrepresented Groups

The mainstream historical record in the United States rarely includes evidence of African-descended and other marginalized people. Any attempts to identify evidence of their lives require extraordinary resourcefulness imagination and energy. The panelists will discuss their experiences in dealing with these challenges. Please come and join for a lively conversation.

March 15, 2016
4:30 pm
Old Main Building
Class of 1907 Room

Panelists:

A. J. Williams-Myers, Professor of History, SUNY New Paltz ▪ Don Quinn Kelley, Professor Emeritus, City University of New York ▪ Lou Roper, Professor of History, SUNY New Paltz ▪ Mary Etta Schneider, President and Board Chair, Historic Huguenot Street ▪ Myra Armstead, Lyford Paterson Edwards and Helen Gray Edwards Professor of Historical Studies, Bard College