CLASSES FILL EARLY
Dear LLI Members,

We anticipated that 2022 would be a challenging year for LLI and I am pleased to report that with the help of many volunteers we were able to successfully navigate the challenges.

As Covid restrictions gradually lifted, we moved from our Spring semester with a majority of Zoom classes to the Fall session, with a greater number of in-person offerings. We find that our membership is slowly restoring to pre-pandemic levels as we continue to seek ways to encourage growth, as the more robust our membership, the more we can offer.

Our greatest challenge this September was the sudden loss of a registrar which left us without the access to the software to enroll students. Fortunately, our council rolled up its collective sleeves to manually create master class lists and send out registration letters. It took many hours, but the Fall semester proceeded smoothly, (with only a few minor glitches).

The Winter Session, created by Carole Heyl, was an opportunity to continue to be mentally stimulated and stay in touch during these cold winter days. The love of learning never stops, or in the words of LLI Member, Fonda Rothblatt, “You stop learning when you take your last breath.”

Our Spring catalog will be online soon. We are offering 33 courses which take place on and off campus and online via Zoom. There is something for everyone. Make sure to join us for an enjoyable and educational semester.

Sincerely,
Theo Pappas
President, LLI-SUNY New Paltz

What do we really know about how language works in the brain? What are the different ways in which various languages divide up the 'reality' of the world? Does language really have an impact on the way we think? This course will explore these questions, and other questions that relate to the fascinating relationships between the ways we use language and the ways we think about the world.

Eric Chambers holds a doctorate in Linguistics from the Graduate Center at the City University of New York, and currently teaches courses in linguistics at SUNY New Paltz.

Often, we hear that law is distinct from culture, morality, and values. This however is not consistent with the law in America or quite frankly in any society. Indeed, the American Revolution and Continental Congress were direct results of the Enlightenment and Western Europe’s desire to remove itself from the Divine Right of Kings, the suppression of the individual as well as the tyranny of the Church/State. Indeed, the US Constitution and accompanying ten Amendments reflect this historical moment. What is unclear however, is the nature and scope of SCOTUS, and its ability to apply, interpret, construe, and clarify both law and doctrine. This is exactly the issue surrounding Dobbs and all the substantive due process cases which emanate from that theory of liberty and equality. Some of the questions raised by the majority position in Dobbs, challenge rights we hold very dear and assumed to exist in our lives—specifically the right to marry, the right to raise a family (children), the right of children to have the society of their parents, the right to control one’s reproductive capability as well as the overarching right of privacy. This course will deconstruct the issues raised by Dobbs as well as the alleged legal/cultural foundation of Alito’s majority opinion, Thomas’ concurrence, and the dissent opinions of the minority members of the Court.

Dr. McDaniel-Miccio is an internationally renowned attorney, professor, scholar on human rights, specifically in the area of gender, sex and sexual orientation inequality. Kris litigated successful sexual discrimination cases and wage inequality, Colorado’s Constitutional ban on same-sex marriage and cases challenging state collaboration concerning violence against women. She has written numerous pieces of domestic and international legislation protecting the lives and rights of children, mothers, and families.
and has published extensively in leading law reviews and publications. Dr. McDaniel-Miccio is the recipient of numerous awards for teaching, scholarship and advocacy for human rights—She is most proud however of The Irish Law Society Award for Human Rights, and the trees growing in Israel “planted” by her students from the Holocaust Seminar, she taught at the University of Denver.

On a personal note, she is a Bronx girl, and rabid New York Yankee Fan.

BETWEEN THE WARS: ARTS AND CULTURE OF THE 1930’s

Chuck Mischaan

SUNY Campus

2:00-3:15

The Roaring 20s ended with the Black Friday crash. The 1930s began with the Great Depression, the rise of Authoritarianism and other threats to the fragile New World Order that had grown out of the ashes of World War I. How did the literary and visual arts reflect and react to the turmoil and challenge of the catastrophe of this Brave New World? What defined the culture of this decade? This course will take a closer look at the Arts and Culture of the 1930s.

Chuck Mischaan has been presenting courses at SUNY New Paltz for many years, including his popular Opera as Politics series and recently, The Roaring 20s. His commentary on the intersection of politics and the arts continues with this course.

DIALOGUES IN ART

Zachary Bowman

SUNY Campus (Dorsky Museum)

2:00-3:15

CLASS LIMIT: 20

Art is not made in a vacuum, it is a form of communication – made for others to experience. In this class, we will spend our time in the Spring exhibition at the Dorsky Museum, learning artist and curator intent – and discussing how the work relates to our own lived experience. The goal is not to evaluate the work we are seeing, but rather to take time to consider why it was made and what we might learn from it about the life of the artist and the purpose of the exhibition, about ourselves and the other members of the class.

Zachary Bowman is the Manager of Education and Visitor Experience at The Samuel Dorsky Museum of Art. He has been a museum educator for over 10 years, having worked and trained at both The Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum and the MoMA PSI in New York City.
CREATIVE JOURNALING
Richard Parisio

SUNY Campus
9:30-10:45

Discover the ancient Japanese journaling practice called Haibun, combining prose and haiku-like verses to document and enrich your experience. If you’ve ever wanted to start writing a journal, or to deepen and expand an existing writing practice, this course is for you! We will read and discuss examples of traditional Haibun, as well as prose poems, lyric essays and other related hybrid forms. In class, we will divide our time between discussion, writing exercises, and sharing our own writing with other participants.

RECOMMENDED READING (optional):
- Narrow Road to the Interior and Other Writings, by Matsuo Basho (trans. by Sam Hamill)
- The Book of Delights, by Ross Gay
- Danger on Peaks, by Gary Snyder

Richard Parisio is a career environmental educator and lifelong writer. He has published an award-winning poetry chapbook, written a nature column for the former New Paltz Times, and taught college classes in composition and nature writing. Parisio has just completed a Master of Fine Arts degree in creative writing.

AWAKEN THE HEALER WITHIN
Happy Joints, Happy Life
Helen Coyle Bergstein

SUNY Campus
11:00-12:15

Imagine being able to live pain free, naturally, walking with grace through your neighborhood, dancing with your kids and grandchildren, and dare I say whirling and swirling happily through your days. The good news is that you can with a little help from ancient, simple, Qigong practices. We will literally “wring” stagnant Qi from our joints by practicing flowing movements easily done sitting or standing. Once the stagnant Qi is unblocked, it’s replaced with revitalizing Qi that flows through your joints like water: fluid and free.

Great for people living with arthritis, tendonitis, and osteoporosis. Plant-based pain and stress relief product solutions can be sampled at each class.

Helen Coyle Bergstein is a Qigong teacher certified by the IIQTC and trained with founder Dr. Roger Jahnke. Helen teaches The Healer Within, Rev Up Your Brain, Happy Joints, Breathe Again (reduce stress and anxiety) and more. Helen regained her health 20+ years ago by removing toxins from her household with plant-based alternatives to care for her family’s physical and emotional well being.
BE A HEALTHIER YOU
Marilyn Reitman

SUNY Campus
11:00-12:15

NEUROPLASTICITY - SPARK YOUR BRAIN
We will work together to reopen the neuro pathways to the brain. The practice is done sitting which allows students to feel comfortable and safe while doing exercises to music while engaging various parts of the body.

MATTER of BALANCE – FEAR of FALLING
We have balance points throughout our body and we need to work them so they can work for us. These classes will work on strengthening your balance by working from the top of your head to the bottom of your feet.
The class is interesting and fun, and you will be provided an explanation about why we do each exercise, especially the fear of falling.

Marilyn Reitman began to teach 15 years ago through the government programs in Florida. She enjoys watching her students progress through her teaching methodology. After taking a course in Neuroplasticity, she taught that for three years in Florida and Mexico. Her aim is to see everyone laugh, smile and learn how to take care of themselves. She is certified in Neuroplasticity, Balance and Tai Chi.

CUISINES OF SOUTHEAST ASIA
Harvey Monder

St. Joseph Church
12:30-1:45
CLASS LIMIT: 15 (Minimum 10)
MATERIALS FEE: $20.00

The countries of Southeast Asia represent diverse cultures and environments. Years of strife have resulted in the cross-pollination of food ingredients and the way they are prepared and seasoned. Many of the exotic spices and condiments of the area are now easily found in this country. This course will demonstrate the uses of some of these ingredients. There will be discussion and preparation of various dishes from four of the countries in the area: Indonesia, Thailand, Vietnam and Malaysia. Students will have the opportunity to taste samples of the prepared dishes.

Harvey Monder has been fascinated by the foods of Southeast Asia for over 65 years. His interest developed when he accidentally came across a book on Indonesian cooking. Through the years his interests spread to incorporate much of the other countries of Southeast Asia. He is self-educated on their cooking techniques and ingredients. He has prepared representative meals from the area for parties and picnics. In addition to his interest in Southeast Asia, Harvey has taught classes in Caribbean, Japanese and Mediterranean cuisines.

Aging is not lost youth but a new stage of opportunity and strength
THE HISTORY OF HORROR AND SCI-FI FILMS
Robert Esposito
SUNY Campus
12:30-1:45

A wonderful walk through the history of Horror and Sci-Fi films! From the 1930's "Golden Age" of Horror through 1960's outer space Sci-Fi with plenty of terrific monsters along the way. The films, the actors, the filmmakers and plenty of background information will be presented. This promises to be a fun ride!

SUGGESTED READING:
- Boris Karloff
  Edited by Gary J. and Susan Svehla
  By Gregory W. Mank
- Forgotten Faces of Fantastic Films
  By James T. Coughlin
- Monsters, Mutants and Heavenly Creatures Confessions of 14 Classic Sci-Fi/ Horrormeisters!
  By Tom Weaver

Robert Esposito has a lifelong admiration of horror and Sci-Fi films and the scholarship connected with them. In the late 1990s through the early 2000's, in conjunction with the Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi and Dwight Frye estates, he published a series of collector card sets featuring Horror film actors Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi and Dwight Frye. Robert is presently on the programming committee at the Rosendale Theatre and has presented a film series Saturday Creature Features at the theatre which included vintage Horror and Sci-Fi films such as Dracula (1931), Frankenstein (1931) and King Kong (1933). He has a large number of photos, film clip and information that he will present to the class.

WHY IS BIODYNAMIC AGRICULTURE SO IMPORTANT?
Nancy B. MacNamara
SUNY Campus
12:30-1:45

What is Biodynamic Agriculture? Why does the movement towards BD lead to a brighter future? Learn how the principals used for farming, gardening, production of food and nutrition can create a holistic, ecological and ethical social and political atmosphere.

SUGGESTED READING:
Spiritual Foundations for the Renewal of Agriculture by Rudolf Steiner

Nancy B. MacNamara is an artist and cultivator of plants used in culinary creations as well as in herbal remedies. She is a proponent of biological regenerative agriculture in the garden and functional medicine in the body. As a Master of Fine Arts, her photographs attest to an abiding interest in the sociological anthropology of contemporary life.

CREATE YOUR OWN ARTWORK INSPIRED BY AUSTRALIAN ABORIGINAL DOT PAINTING

Ellie Anderson

Redeemer Lutheran Church

9:00-10:15  (7 weeks)

CLASS LIMIT: 10

MATERIALS FEE: $5.00

This course is suitable for any level student even if you have never painted before. You will create a painting in the style of Australian Aboriginal desert art by creating your own personal symbols to form your visual language. eg circles, squares, simple bird, flower, or animal shapes. The painting will be executed on canvas using the ‘dot’ style of these artists. Besides having a beautiful painting, you will learn something about Australian aboriginal culture.

Ellie Anderson was trained as a high school art teacher in Queensland, Australia and George Mason University, Fairfax, Virginia. She has taught art in both Queensland and Virginia.

FAIRY TALE EXPERIENCE

Patty Kane Horrigan

St. Joseph Church

11:00 – 12:15

We are engulfed in such strange times that fairy tales seem more prescient than ever. Many of the fairy tales we are most familiar with originated in dark and challenging times such as these. We’ll discuss these kinds of parallels and look to find ways to describe our own world turmoil in fairy tale terms.

Patty Kane Horrigan has been exploring fairy tales since she was a little girl. They have never gotten old or stale and instead become more nuanced and complicated as time goes on. She is a writer, a trained counselor and a teacher and loves to engage with others on her favorite stories.

TIDY TIDBITS AND FUN FACTOIDS OF HISTORY

Bob Ulrich

Redeemer Lutheran Church

11:00-12:15

I bought it “Lock, Stock, and Barrel”, and he was “Just a Flash in the Pan”. What is “peaceful” about the Peace Symbol, and why wish someone to “Sleep Tight”? Who, exactly, “Let the Cat Out of the Bag,” and why?

There are so many expressions (and symbols) we use on a daily basis without giving them much thought. We all know what they mean, or imply, but - exactly how did they originate?

Bob Ulrich is a local historian whose passion for American History started after his retirement from a thirty year career with IBM.

He teaches about the early Dutch starting modern life in America, the French and Indian War, and the Revolutionary War that followed it. Bob has lectured at all the area LLIs, plus various historic societies locally and in New Jersey. He is a regular contributor to the after dinner lecture series at the Mohonk Mountain House. His picture-filled presentations and interesting factual highlights add a welcome touch to enjoying history.
INTRODUCTION TO TAP DANCE
Anita-Jean McMonigle

Redeemer Lutheran Church
1:00 - 2:15

Discover your inner Fred Astaire. Basic tap steps and fun combinations to get up and dancing. Learn all about this interesting dance form.
Tap shoes are best, but hard soled shoes will be fine. No sneakers, Please!!

Anita-Jean McMonigle has presented dance classes for LLI for several years. She also had a dance studio in the Newburgh/Marlboro area for over 50 years. She has worked as choreographer for several theater groups - Newburgh Civic Theater, Amodeo Players – Marlboro, South Junior High in Newburgh, Temple Hill Players – New Windsor, Newburgh Free Academy, and Wallkill Senior High School. She has run dance or gymnastic classes for the Town Recreation groups of Marlboro, Town of Newburgh, and Highland Falls. She is on the Board of the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Arts, Inc. She has served that organization as a Vice President, Chair of the Board, and President.

UNCONSCIOUS BIAS: BECOMING AWARE OF WHAT WE REALLY BELIEVE
Jo Sanders

Woodland Pond
1:00 - 2:15

With the benefit of movements to improve the lives of people of color, women, people with disabilities, people with differing sexual orientations, and others, why do stereotyping and discrimination persist even though so many of us are sincerely convinced we are unbiased? This research-based and participatory course, focusing on many equity-related issues, will delve below the surface of our conscious thoughts and attitudes to cast light on what we don’t realize we think and believe, and therefore act upon. Being biased is human and natural, but by making our unconscious biases conscious, we can do something about those we’d rather not have.

Jo Sanders had a career as an educational researcher in gender equity, working with thousands of science and technology teachers and education professors nationwide and abroad to be more effective for both sexes in the classroom. She has published ten books and dozens of book chapters and research papers, and has given speeches, seminars, and workshops across the US and internationally. She is the founder and former director of the Lifelong Learning Program in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, and now lives at Woodland Pond in New Paltz.

ADVANCED BEGINNER/INTERMEDIATE SPANISH CONVERSATION
Claudia Battaglia

St. Joseph Church
3:00 - 4:15
CLASS LIMIT: 15

Effective language learning requires conversational practice. Would you like to refresh and/or improve your Spanish, converse with native speakers, communicate with hired help, enrich your travel experience? Bienvenidos! Here is your opportunity to practice! This is a course for those who have studied Spanish and remember the very basics, but may have forgotten all the details. Though some knowledge of grammar is essential for learning a foreign language, this course will be conversational in nature. It will provide grammatical charts of information for those who want to study, but others may prefer to use them as reference guides, or “cheat sheets” during class. Conversation will be casual, and both guided by the instructor, and driven by class interest. There will be props and some situational role-playing for the adventurous but there will be no pressure to speak until ready. This course is best suited to intermediates, and is not for beginners. Please feel free to bring a few photographs to prompt conversation.

A retired English teacher, Claudia Battaglia now speaks Spanish almost daily with friends, or in her work as an interpreter for Ulster Immigrant Defense Network (UIDN). She has taught Spanish as an adjunct instructor at SUNY New Paltz, and in the SUNY Language Immersion program, and has recently translated web sites into Spanish. Her love of languages and all things foreign was sparked at a young child, by her mother, who was born in France, and spoke French to Claudia. Having recently studied Arabic, Claudia brings a keen awareness to her classroom of the difficulties of trying to express simple thoughts in a foreign language.

By nature all people are alike, but by education become different

MAGICAL MARVELOUS MEMOIR
WRITING
Susan Slotnick
St. Joseph Church
3:00-4:15
CLASS LIMIT: 16

When we reach the time of life where a lot of our past is behind us, but informs our present every day, it’s time to tell our story. We all have a unique and important story to tell. Whether or not we want to publish our story, it is meaningful to everyone who has loved and loves us. In this course you will identify what part of your history you want to highlight. Who do you want to read your story? What moral conundrums will surely arise? Do you write about yourself only or about others? How can you get permission from people in your life that impacts your narrative?

Although this is not a how-to writing course, inevitably during the course your writing will surely improve. Let’s celebrate and share our lives with each other in a safe non-judgmental environment.

Susan Slotnick has been a featured columnist for Hudson Valley One during the last 40 years. Her long career has been as a painter, choreographer, teacher and recently she published a memoir entitled Flight: The Dance of Freedom. She is most well known for choreographing full-scale dance concerts for men in prison, which has produced two documentaries, awards and national articles. Currently and for the last 16 years, Susan Slotnick has gone behind the walls at The Woodbourne Correctional Facility and DFY (Division For Youth prison) every Friday and Sunday to bring the joy of modern dance to incarcerated men and boys.
ART MAKING WELLNESS WORKSHOP
Jane Bishow-Semevolos
St. Joseph Church
9:00-10:15
MATERIALS FEE: $5.00

You don’t have to be good at art to make art. This workshops’ goal is not to create better artists but to inspire the person within, create a feeling of relaxation and improve well-being. Through these 4 workshops we will create art focusing on the process rather than the product. We will encourage you to step outside your comfort zone and give it a try. Through the intentional process of art reflection, we encourage participants to untangle thoughts, make meaning and gain self-awareness. This often leads to new perspectives and opportunities to improve wellbeing all while having fun!

Jane Bishow-Semevolos is a Licensed Creative Arts Therapist and Adventure Based Counselor. She is an alumni of SUNY New Paltz and completed her Masters Degree at Hofstra University in 2012. Jane's business is The Art of Adventure Team Building and Wellness Workshops. Her goals are to combine art therapy and adventure based counseling to provide an upbeat, self-learning and social learning experiences that encourage people to engage in positive challenges in order to better manage more difficult challenges.

NEW THREE R’s – RUPTURE, REPAIR AND RESPECT IN FRIENDSHIP
Fred Mayo
Redeemer Lutheran Church
11:00-12:15

Friendship sustains us by providing connection, vitality and engagement, especially in the fifth quarter of our lives. However, rupture and repair are often part of long-lasting friendships; they can lead to severing a relationship or they can deepen the caring and the connection. This course will explore a range of questions about friendships: What role do ruptures play in relationships with friends? How do we decide to repair or delete relationships? What happens when we make that decision? And what role does respect play in human relationships? What respect do you show your friends and how do you demonstrate it? There will be some short readings to expand our understanding of these processes and chances to discuss our own experiences with friends.

A retired professor at NYU, Fred Mayo has taught many classes for LLI. Among them are Types of Tourism, Civility, Isolation, Rituals and Routines, Friendship and a series of Dr. Manners and social behavior.
INTRODUCTION TO WILD BIRDS
AND BIRDING
Annie Mardiney and Jacqueline Dooley

St. Joseph Church and Field Trips
9:00-10:15 and 8:30-9:45
CLASS LIMIT: 15

Spring is the peak of migratory songbirds heading north, so be ready to enjoy their arrival, and learn about the many species common to the public parks, trails and preserves within Ulster County. This is an introductory, low-key class to encourage new birders to identify common wild birds by sight and sound, even if all you want to do is recognize the birds at your feeders.
The first session will be in a classroom where we will discuss species we hope to see, informational resources, binoculars, and use of cameras, particularly cell phone cameras. We may even have a visit from an educational raptor.
The following three sessions will be outdoors at nearby locations and may require walking for up to a half mile on and off paved flat terrain.
Sturdy walking shoes are recommended as well as a bug repellent, and a sun hat. You might also bring a folding chair. If you do not have binoculars there will be a some available. Start your Bird Life list with us.

Annie Mardiney is a federally and state permitted wild bird rehabilitator, and does live raptor programs with unreleasable owls, falcons, and hawks. She is a life-long birder and a board member of the area John Burroughs Natural History Society, based in the Mid-Hudson Valley. Her wild bird rehab work and birdy posts are on Facebook at Wild Mountain Birds.

Jacqueline Dooley is a freelance writer located in Eddyville, N.Y. She’s an avid birder who covers birding and outdoor topics for Scenic Hudson’s publication, The HV Viewfinder. Her essays about grief, nature, birds, and parenting have appeared in the Washington Post, Longreads, Modern Loss, Al Jazeera, and Medium.

ADVANCED MAH-JONGG STRATEGIES
Barbara Wyman and Ann Hanover

Woodland Pond
11:00-12:15
CLASS LIMIT: 12

If you have been playing Mah-Jongg for a few years and would like to “up” your game, this course is for you. We will be teaching strategies that will enhance your understanding and playing of Mah-Jongg.
We will be analyzing the new hands and familiarizing the class with the nuances of the card. This class is not for beginners who want to learn how to play Mahjongg.
A requirement of the course will be to purchase and play with the new 2023 card. ($14-$15)

Barbara Wyman and Ann Hanover have been playing Mah-Jongg for over 20 years. They have taught LLI classes in previous years. Their love for the game is reflected in their playing Mah-Jongg 2-3 times a week and in attending several Mah-jongg tournaments.
FILM APPRECIATION
‘MUSICAL BIOGRAPHIES’
Robert Brunet

Woodland Pond
1:00-3:00

During this 4-week course, four filmed musical biographies will be shown. Details about each will be presented and information leaflets distributed. The biography of each musical artist will be reviewed, and after the film the discrepancies between Hollywood’s version and real-life will be discussed.

The artists will be JOHN DENVER, SCOTT JOPLIN, GLEN MILLER and LORETTA LYNN.

Robert Brunet has taught Film Appreciation for sixteen years at the Older Adult Learning Community (TOALC), located in East Stroudsburg, PA. and still does. He has also presented to LLI SUNY New Paltz. He tries to make viewing films a personal experience.

WINE WINE WINE
WHAT YOU MAY WANT TO KNOW ABOUT WINE, BUT WERE AFRAID TO ASK
Manny Sloan

Woodland Pond
3:00-4:15
CLASS LIMIT: 25 (Minimum 10)
MATERIALS FEE: $30-$35/person for wine
   To be paid to the presenter in the first class

In this 4-week course your questions about wine will be answered. You will learn how to taste wine in order to get the most out of the experience, as well as educate your palate. We will taste and compare wines from different grapes and regions. You only learn what you may like by tasting. Your feedback helps to expand the scope of this course.

Participation required.

SUGGESTED ITEMS:
   Two wine glasses

Over 40 years of enjoying and learning about wine as a hobby has led Manny Sloan to pursue his latest career as a wine consultant and wine educator with Wine Worldwide and International Wine Masters here in New Paltz. Manny has led several courses at LLI on the different nuances revealed in wine.

Lifetime Learning Institute

MISSION STATEMENT

The Lifetime Learning Institute of New Paltz promotes diverse and enriching learning experiences for older adults, provide opportunities for social interaction, and encourages individuals to use their knowledge and skills in creative ways.

(Adopted 3/7/2008)
CURRENT EVENTS DISCUSSION
Robert Arthurs

ONLINE
9:00-10:30
CLASS LIMIT: 15

This course is a discussion group of current events focusing on the most significant international and national news. Each week before class, the leader/facilitator will email a few key articles or editorials to the participants for their reading and class discussion. The facilitator will manage the discussion to maximize participation and the coverage of the following while maintaining basic decorum. Participants should come prepared to discuss the issues presented in the provided articles plus other leading newspapers, journals and other media sources. It is essential to have a functioning email address and access to the internet.

Robert Arthurs is a musician, music educator, performer, and recording artist. He was on the faculty of the Music Conservatory of Westchester from 1972 to 2005. From 1990 to 2005 he served as dean of students and faculty at the school and was also the head of the jazz department. In the mid-1980s he returned to college to work toward receiving a degree in Russian language and literature. After receiving his BA from Lehman College (CUNY), he enrolled in SUNY Albany’s Russian Department to pursue a Masters degree. His semester at Moscow State University was part of that program. He received his Masters in Russian Language and Literature in 1992. Bob has presented several courses on various topics for LLI.

READING EDITH WHARTON
Meta Plotnik

ONLINE
11:00-12:30

Edith Wharton wrote many novels during the late 19th Century and 20th Century that trace class, social and gender issues. We will read Summer, Age of Innocence, and several short stories.

Participants are expected to read, share reactions, quotations, and connections with other novels.

Meta Plotnik received her PhD in English from the Graduate School at City University of New York (CUNY). She taught English and Women Studies at Nassau Community College for 33 years. Courses included English literature, mythology, women writers, introduction to Women Studies, and The Goddess in World Religions. At LLI she presented the Goddess course, George Eliot’s Middlemarch, Thomas Hardy’s Jude The Obscure and Willa Cather’s My Antonia & Death Comes for the Archbishop.
LIVING SUSTAINABLY: NATURE’S WAY
Lyla Yastion

ONLINE
1:00-2:30

Recent scientific reports warn that human-induced climate change is accelerating at an alarming rate and that it is just a matter of time before the dire effects are felt by all species, including our own. It is incumbent upon humanity to understand how we participants in Western industrialized culture have disturbed Earth’s natural sustainability and how we can remedy the situation by adopting a sustainable lifestyle based in the perception of Earth as a living, nurturing organism worthy of our respect and care. We will trace the history of how human beings, through a cultural worldview of mastery over nature, have arrived at this perilous juncture, examine alternative perspectives – particularly that of indigenous cultures – and explore ways to transform society by cultivating a new mindset in relationship to the natural world.

Lyla Yastion received a doctorate in anthropology from SUNY Albany and has taught courses in anthropology and religious studies at the college level for 19 years. As recently as 2018 she was part of the adjunct faculty at SUNY New Paltz. Lyla has written two books: Pause Now: Handbook for a Spiritual Revolution and Homesick: finding our way back to a healthy planet. The course Living Sustainably: Nature’s Way is based on the latter book. Lyla is also a reiki master with training in shamanic healing.

WOMEN ARTISTS,
FROM THE MIDDLE AGES UNTIL TODAY
José Moreno-Lacalle

ONLINE
3:00-4:30 (7 weeks)

The course with cover mostly European or American women artists who have been documented and have works that are extant, from the Middle Ages until our own time. Biographical information, when available, shall be included, and images of their works shall be shown.

A good knowledge of Art History is not necessary but is certainly useful. Awareness of the major periods of Art History is important, however, such as Gothic (Medieval), Early Renaissance, High and Late Renaissance, the Baroque, Rococo and Neo-Classicism, 19th-Century Romanticism, Realism, and Impressionism, Post-Impressionism, Cubism, Fauvism, Surrealism, Expressionism, Modernism, and Conceptualism. The presentation will be mostly chronological, but also thematically organized.

Feminist art-historian Linda Nochlin’s influential and seminal essay, “Why are there no great women artists?” is available online and is highly recommended reading.

José Moreno-Lacalle earned an MA in Art History in 1982 at Hunter College (CUNY) and taught Art History and History for nine years at the Lenox School in NYC. Art was used throughout the regular history courses. He also taught an Art History AP course which all the students passed, leading to several later earning degrees in Art History themselves. He has recently taught the Development of the Human Figure in Western Art and the representation of the Human Form in World Art at both Bard and SUNY New Paltz.

Always walk through life as if you have something new to learn and you will. — Vernon Howard
MOHONK PRESERVE
Balancing Conservation and Recreation at New York’s Largest Non-Profit Nature Preserve
Kevin Case – Coordinator

ONLINE
9:00-10:30

Mohonk Preserve’s mission is to protect the Shawangunk Mountains region and inspire people to care for, enjoy and explore their natural world. As New York’s largest non-profit nature preserve, the Preserve protects and manages over 8,000 acres of irreplaceable ridgeline, forests and fields, while welcoming 300,000 visitors annually to enjoy hiking, biking, climbing, birding and other outdoor activities. This course will take you through how the Preserve today approaches caring for this precious landscape and provides for world class outdoor recreational opportunities.

The four classes will be taught by members of the Mohonk Preserve Leadership Team

March 9  Kevin Case – President & CEO
Gretchen Reid – Director of Marketing and Communications

An Introduction to Mohonk Preserve.
The class will cover how the Preserve was created 60 years ago and provide an overview of how the organization is structured today to achieve its mission through conservation science, land protection and management, visitor experience and education for all ages.

March 16  Julia Solomon – Director of Conservation Programs
Managing 8,000 Acres for Conservation Success in the Face of Climate Change.

Mohonk Preserve’s lands have been identified as extremely important for biodiversity in a changing climate. Learn what the Preserve is doing to protect the health of its forests and grasslands in the face of climate threats, as well as what actions it is taking to reduce its organizational carbon footprint.

March 23  Chuck Reid – Director Of Stewardship
Andrew Bajardi - Director Of Visitor Experience & Chief Ranger

Balancing World-Class Recreation with Conservation.
With 300,000 annual visitors that come to walk, run or bike on our 30 miles of carriage roads or enjoy some of the best rock climbing in North America, or simply observe nature, balancing the demand for access with ensuring the protection of the unique ecosystem presents many challenges and opportunities. Learn how the Preserve approaches creating a welcoming and safe experience for our visitors while maintaining a complex carriage road and trail system, a portion of which is part of a National Historic Landmark Designation.

March 30  Kathy Ambrosini – Director of Education

Unveiling the mysteries of the Ridge & exploring it’s habitats.
In this final class of the series, we will unveil the mysteries of how the Ridge came to be, shaped and formed to create a template on which life on the rocks would thrive at the Mohonk Preserve. We’ll virtually explore a variety of habitats and seek some of the key plants and animals living in varied conditions and environments. We hope to inspire you to visit the Preserve and seek out personal discoveries!

Science encompasses a wide variety of topics. This series deals with Humankind and the interaction with life. How the environment has been affected, how medical needs are affected by aging, how to improve your health and keep your mind active.

From the beginning of time, we have sought the answer to the age-old questions of:

Apr 13: Janelle Peotter
The Climate Crisis: What Can You Do?

You know about climate change and you hear every day in the news the devastating effects of climate change but what can you do about it? We are going to focus on the answer to that question. The anecdote to anxiety is action! You will learn what changes you can make in your everyday life to reduce your greenhouse gas emissions, what you can do in your community, and advocacy that you can do on a macro scale. You will learn more about the statewide program called Climate Smart Communities and how you can support that work on the local level.

Apr 20: James Howitt
Your Eyes as You Age

This class will focus on the changes that may occur with your eyes as you age. Topics such as ‘What are cataracts and how are they treated’ and the ‘Effects of Diabetes on your eyes’ will be discussed.

Apr 27: Josephine Quiñocho
Reach Your Health Goals! Step by Step

We may know the key to health is eating more fruits and vegetables and staying physically active – but do we know how to do this? How do we incorporate health into our daily lives? Learn tips and tricks on reaching your health goals step by step. Discuss challenges and solutions in your dietary habits and learn simple ways to stay active!

May 4: Bill Tuel
Play’n’ Around With Geometry

Some interesting topics related to plane geometry will be presented. Some are puzzles, others are deep mathematical results that are easy to explain but were difficult to solve. Some of the material may help you recall your own experience with plane geometry, but some of the material will be brand new to you.

Janelle Peotter has been the volunteer Climate Smart Coordinator for the Town and Village of New Paltz for the past five years. She has always had a keen interest in the environment but worked as a school social worker for 30 years in Wisconsin. Retirement has allowed her time to jump into full time volunteering on issues related to the climate crisis.

James Howitt, MD is an Ophthalmologist with over 20 years in practice.
Josephine Quirocho started her nutrition career in the garden! Growing food and being in nature is one of her absolute joys, but she began to realize that food - growing, cooking, and eating – is a struggle for many. Some have become disconnected from how food grows, how to prepare healthy and delicious meals, or even how to access good food. The simultaneous rise in chronic illness in the United States led her to pursue a master’s degree in Food Studies from New York University and she began teaching about the connection between food and environment shortly thereafter. Her work with agriculture and nutrition come together where she can provide evidence-based nutrition education to the community.

William Tuel is a retired IBM Software Engineer, with an interest in the history of science. He has presented LLI courses on Mathematics, Biology, Computers, and Electricity.

SONG OF SONGS
Rena Blumenthal

ONLINE
1:00-2:30

Song of Songs can be read in many ways: as beautiful, erotic love poetry; or as an allegory for the God-Israel relationship; or as a guide for the spiritual return to the Edenic garden. In this class, we will do a close reading of Song of Songs, enjoying its poetic beauty while searching out its spiritual subtext. No prior knowledge assumed.

Rena Blumenthal is a free-lance rabbi based in New Paltz. This is her sixth year teaching for LLI.

SPECIAL COURSE

Jessica Rothman

SUNY Campus

First Class – Weds, March 15 3:30-4:45
Other Meetings -TBD
Performance – Thurs evening, March 23

We will be exploring a classic script from the theatrical canon, EVERYMAN, including a SUNY New Paltz performance of a contemporary adaptation, EVERYBODY.

Sessions will include discussion of the original play, meetings with members of the production team, and writing our own adapted scripts, to be read aloud for us by members of the cast of EVERYBODY.

Students will be provided with a link to the script of EVERYMAN, to be read before the first class session, if possible.

Tickets for the performance on Thursday evening, March 23, will be $5.00 each, to be collected during the first class session.

Jessica D. Rothman has been a theatre educator and director of both Shakespeare and Musical Theatre for five decades and has created curriculum guides for Broadway shows. She is a past NYS Director of the International Thespian Society and a member of SAG/AFTRA.
