Deadline approaching to elect the S/U grading option

The last day to elect the satisfactory/unsatisfactory grading option for a full semester fall 2022 course is Monday, December 12, as noted in the Academic Calendar. See part of term calendar for S/U deadlines for earlier ending courses.

Questions about the S/U grading option and how to add it to a course?

Is this grading option right for you?

Speak to your advisor to determine if the S/U option will have consequences for your academic plans. Faculty cannot assist you with adding the S/U option to a course and they are unaware that the S/U option has been elected by you.

How to change an S* or U* to the letter grade?

If you wish to see the letter grade for a previously elected S/U course, you can do so using the instructions here. The grade can be reverted to the letter grade using the same path, up to one year after the course was completed.
