

Program Application
Bachelor's Degree Programs
Adolescence Education

The Adolescence Education Department's BA and BS degree programs lead to eligibility for initial New York State teaching certification for grades 7-12 in the areas of English, mathematics, science (biology, chemistry, earth science, physics), or social studies.

These rigorous programs are designed for candidates who are "committed to becoming caring, critical, and reflective professionals responsive to the needs of a diverse society" (see attached School of Education Conceptual Framework). Program graduates must demonstrate competence in the following areas: critical inquiry and intellectual development, professional skills and disposition, culturally responsive practice and social justice, and democratic citizenship and student advocacy.

These programs require extensive pre-student teaching field experiences in addition to a full semester student teaching in both a middle and a high school. Fieldwork and student teaching sites are in a variety of regional schools within one hour of the New Paltz campus. For some programs, additional fieldwork sites exist in New York City, New York. Students remain responsible for their own transportation and must understand that some sites require up to an hour commute.

Information about the Student Teaching Experience

Student Teaching is a capstone experience for all undergraduate secondary and elementary teacher candidates seeking a bachelor's degree. It is a full-time commitment extending for an entire semester with placements in two different settings. As such, the School of Education requires that all required coursework is completed BEFORE the capstone experience begins, and it restricts candidates from taking any other course(s) while registered for student teaching except the co-requisite fieldwork 3 and the student teaching seminar.

Information about GPA Requirements for Methods

All Adolescence Education/7-12 students must have a 3.0 GPA to register for methods. Students unable to meet this GPA prerequisite will be advised to change their major so they can graduate in a timely manner.

PREPARING CARING, CRITICAL, AND REFLECTIVE PROFESSIONALS TO MAXIMIZE STUDENT SUCCESS

Through coursework, field experiences, and clinical practice, School of Education/Professional Education Unit faculty, staff, and administrators prepare caring, critical, and reflective professionals who are committed to:

Critical Inquiry and Intellectual Development

Candidates inquire and reflect critically on sociological, historical, and other aspects of educational practice and policy, engage in data-informed decision-making processes, demonstrate the ability to employ evidence-based practices, and continually develop disciplinary and pedagogical knowledge and skills oriented towards high-quality teaching and learning standards.

Professional Skills and Disposition

Candidates develop respectful relationships with students, families, communities, and colleagues; practice an ethically informed philosophy; and participate effectively in institutional change.

Culturally Responsive Practice and Social Justice

Education candidates understand and apply practices that promote respect, inclusion, and equity in teaching, learning, and student development based on social identity markers including, but not limited to, race, gender, class, sexual orientation, disability, language, religion, culture, national origin, epistemology, and family life.

Democratic Citizenship and Student Advocacy

Candidates respect education as a human right and a foundation to active inclusion and participation in public life, and aspire to be agents of change in response to persistent barriers to equal educational opportunity.

Faculty, staff, and administrators model, as well as nurture and cultivate, the four dimensions in the candidates they serve. Guided and informed by these dimensions, candidates are prepared to maximize their students' success.
